"INVESTING IN THE FUTURE"

THE AG-ACADEMY

June 1-28, 2013

Planning for AG Academy 2013 camp is underway. AG ACADEMY is an agricultural and technical training camp for youth ages six (6) to twelve (12) held on the historic campus of Alcorn State University, Alcorn State, Mississippi. The camp is scheduled for June 1-28, 2013. We will broaden the children's experiences in the camp this year with a trip to Washington, D.C. during the first week (June 1-8, 2013) of the camp. In this trip we will visit numerous Smithsonian Museums (including the Smithsonian Museum of American History, the Smithsonian Museum of National Air and Space, and the Smithsonian Museum of African Art), the National Mall, the White House, and other sites to explore the rich history of our nation, our heritage, and the resources of the world.

The AG Academy will continue throughout the month of June 2013 with experiential exercises and activities that serve as the core of the program. The AG Academy showcases all segments of the agricultural industry along the boundaries of the states of Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, and Louisiana. This structure is intended to empower each individual child while they gain a learning experience that will introduce them to leadership opportunities within an agricultural framework. Other attributes of the camp focus on technology, production, environmental stewardship, and agricultural literacy.
