

MEDIA CONSENT FORM

MEDIA TERMS & USAGE

Alcorn State University (ASU) owns the copyright to all marks and images/video created. Any reproduction rights remain with Alcorn State University, and permission to use these marks and images/videos must be secured prior to publication or any other use. This is true in all cases unless specific arrangements are made in advance of reproduction. Clients are not allowed to distribute, sell, or share any marks and images/videos produced by or at Alcorn State University with any other departments, programs, or organizations.

Clients who agree to the basis license or usage of marks and image/video(s) from Alcorn State University's archive have one-time reproduction rights and must obtain permission for subsequent use of the mark and image/video(s).

COPYRIGHT

Alcorn State University retains the use, copyright, and licensing to all ASU marks and images/videos. You may not re-use, sell, distribute, copy, or manipulate any marks and image/video(s) created by Alcorn State University. All rights for reproduction remain with the University and any permission to use these marks and images/videos must be obtained prior to publication or any other use.

USAGE

All images/videos from Alcorn State University are approved images/videos for use and distribution by Alcorn State University staff, faculty, students, alumni, and others for ASU purposes only. These images/videos must be requested for use in publications, Web sites, and other ASU-related communications. All photos/videos must be properly captioned and credited in publications, where appropriate. You may not distribute, sell, or share any images produced by or at Alcorn State University without prior consent.
