

2023 Center for Research Excellence

Symposium Manual

Symposium

The primary goal for this symposium is to showcase the research done at Alcorn State University and surrounding institutions and to provide an additional opportunity for undergraduate and graduate students to develop professionally and academically in addition to preparing our students for future conferences.

Registration (www.alcorn.edu/CRES2023)

- Each participant must register in order to participate in the symposium (even if they are not presenting).
- There will be early, regular, and late registration.
- There will be no registration taken after January 20, 2022
- For Alcorn State University, ALL student research workers that are paid from Evans Allen or McIntire Stennis are expected to present in either the oral or poster presentations.
- All students and faculty participating in MAS in February 2023 are REQUIRED to present at CRES.
- Registrants must declare if the presentation is their defense

Judging

- There will be three judges per oral and poster presentation.
- Students who are presenting posters are responsible for staying with their posters until all three judges have scored them. If a student has not been scored by three judges they need to contact the help desk and inform them of the situation.
- Judges are working on the honor system and are expected to recuse themselves if they find themselves scoring their own student.
- Both poster and oral judging forms are available online so presenters can see what they are being judged for.
