

Measure 1 (Initial) – Completer Effectiveness [R4.1]

The Satisfaction of Completers Survey is a statewide instrument used to gather feedback from program completers regarding the effectiveness of their preparation. Survey items are aligned with the four InTASC Standards domains: The Learner and Learning, Content Knowledge, Instructional Practice, and Professional Responsibility.

Results from the 2024 Completer Survey indicate positive perceptions of preparation across all four domains. Alcorn State University completers reported 93.75% positive responses in Learner and Learning, 100.00% in Content Knowledge, 96.88% in Instructional Practices, and 100.00% in Professional Responsibility.

These findings indicate that completers perceived their preparation as effective in equipping them with the knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions needed for P–12 practice. Completer survey data are reviewed and used to inform continuous improvement efforts within the EPP.

One note: The 2024 institutional EPP respondent count is four, so this should be interpreted cautiously as a general trend.
